ADVISE TO GIRLS GIVEN BY BAPTISTS

DES MOINES, Ia., June 23.—Young women were given the following advice today by President Ernst Tuftin, of the Northern Baptist convention:

"Don't swear; refrain from improper dress; avoid improper dancing; give up drinking; quit gambling; stop joy riding, and ban immoral plays."

He protested against the "lowered moral tone," of young women's habits, asserted that the world is degenerating and that the churches must drop their "petty philosophizing and return to the faith of their fathers."

ARREST MAN IN RIDGEVILLE CRASH

Deputy Sheriffs Flynn, and Underhill were called to Albers Villa Ridgeville at 9 o'clock last night where they arrested O. A. Robertson, of Cleveland, who was charged with being intoxicated while driving an automobile.

Robertson is a musician and was going to the villa to play for a dance. Just before he reached the villa he ran into an automobile belonging to C. N. Peterson of Chesterland, wrecking it. The machine then bumped into another machine but did not damage it.

An argument took place and the occupant of the third machine demanded that Robertson pay for a damage done to the second machine. Robertson started to abuse the stranger who promptly knocked Robertson down and gave him a good beating. He then got into his machine and departed without giving his name. Robertson was brought to jail and this morning on agreeing to pay the damage to the other auto was fined $5 and costs for intoxication by Justice George. The damage to the machine cost him $100 more.

America Gaining, England Losing, In World Trade

(International News Service.)

PARIS, June 23—America is rising in world domination and England is declining, according to an article by Stephen Lausanne, editor of the Matin, printed today. Under the heading "Waning Star and Rising Star," M. Lausanne comments upon the British imperial conference. He pointed to references to the United States by the British premiers.

"When the speches are read, one might ask if they come from British or American dominions," said M. Lausanne. "The lesson from America is that in the course of her history, she has fought only wars of liberty and never of conquest."

Eugene Lautier, director of L'Homme Libre, alleges that a campaign in favor of an Anglo-French alliance, which was recently under way here and in London, was for the object of setting up England, France and Japan, against the United States.

"When this failed," said M. Lautier, "the same English sources published reports that England and America are coming into closer accord. This is a bluff, and a lie."

"L'Homme Libre" is the organ of Premier Clemenceau.

Two Murder Suspects, One Parole Violator, Overpower Deputies

ALLEGED SLAYERS OF FORMER LORAIN MAN BELIEVED TO HAVE ESCAPED IN AUTO—DEPUTY SHERIFFS YIELD TO PISTOLS IN HANDS OF MASKED PRISONERS—ONE FUGITIVE WAS TO HAVE GONE ON TRIAL TODAY

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, June 23—Bobby Hunt, James Walsh, and Charles Gallagher, the first two alleged murderers, the last a parole violator, all of whom escaped from the county jail at a little after 2 o'clock this morning, are being sought today by Sheriff Charles S. Stannard, a large corps of deputies and members of the Cleveland police.

Bobby Hunt was to have gone on trial today on an indictment charging him with the murder of Patrolman Chas. Sprouty, and Walsh was also charged with this crime.

Lock Up Deputies

Hunt, Walsh and Gallagher crawled from the holes they had sawed in their cells, waited for Deputies McCafferty and Brann to go down stairs, then sprung to the door of the jail. They seized Deputy Levine's gun, shoved Levine and McCafferty behind the jail door, locking the four men on night duty in the jail.

The three men leaped from an open window into a car waiting outside, making their getaway. Night Watchman Gray, for the Ulmer building, directly across from the jail, saw the three men leap from the window, but did not report this to police headquarters until twenty minutes later.

Plans Investigation.

Flying squadrons were sent out as soon as the report reached police headquarters, but up to 10 o'clock this morning no traces of the men have been discovered. When the night men return for duty late this afternoon, Sheriff Stannard will begin an investigation.

That the men had outside assistance was said at the sheriff's

BELIEVE MANIAC MURDERED WEALTHY NEW YORK WOMAN, BODY WAS HORRIBLY CARVED

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 23.—A maniac, whose distorted mind gloated upon violent death and blood, is being sought throughout Long Island today, following the brutal murder of Mrs. Minnie Bartlett, 50 years old, widow of a wealthy New York merchant, in her home at West Hempstead, L. I.

When the gashed and battered corpse was found, it was believed that robbery was the motive. Later, when the police found money and jewels in the house and after the medical examiner had viewed the body, the theory was advanced that the woman was killed by a madman.

Mrs. Bartlett had been shot three times, and stabbed in the neck. Her left arm, both legs and face had been slashed with a keen knife or razor. Her clothing had been torn to shreds. It was evident that the woman had made a terrific struggle for her life and that the murderer had continued to rain blows upon her body, even after life was extinct.

The Bartlett mansion is in an isolated district and no one has yet been found who heard any cries coming from the building.

In his wild frenzy, the murderer had gone from room to room smashing furniture and tearing up clothing. Many excellent finger prints were obtained by the police. The murderer's hands had become covered with blood and traces of his fingers were found upon many articles in the house.

The slain woman was the second wife of George W. Bartlett. Their marriage was the result of a romance which began when Mrs. Bartlett, then a trained nurse, nursed Bartlett through an attack of illness. Mrs. Bartlett had long feared burglars and was trying to sell her house. It was learned that a rough looking, shabbily dressed man had called yesterday morning to inquire about the purchase of the place.

Cave Man Tactics Used to Kidnap Chicago Girl

(International News Service.)

CHICAGO, June 23—Cave man methods were used by the kidnaper of a young girl in view of hundreds of persons at Milwaukee avenue and Robey street and no trace of the girl, who was slugged, then shoved into a taxi, had been found early today. The identify of the girl, who was good looking and about 17 years old, remained a mystery.

Pedestrians herd the girl scream as a man jumped from a high powered car, struck her on the head and then bundled her into the tonneau. The machine sped down an alley and despite hastily organized pursuit, escaped.

Screams were heard all along the route taken by the girl's captors.

Police have been unable to solve the mystery.

JIM AND HIS AUTO CAUSED EXCITEMENT

Members of the Kiwanis club report that they had an exceptionally good time in Cleveland, yesterday, where they attended the festivities during the International convention. It was a warm day, and the members were all het up, especially Jim Armitage.

Jim has decorated his tin Lizzie to the queen's taste and parked it near the Winton hotel. As the day advanced things began to warm up and Jim was in the thick of it. Not to be outdone, the automobile suddenly burst into flames during Jim's absence, and there was a perspiring crowd around it in a minute. A policeman belonging to the Kiwanis got busy and disconnected the battery, thus putting out the fire which was caused by a short circuit. An accommodating garage man soon had the machine back in commission again, but his fellows had a lot of fun with Jim.

RAISES BUGS TO KILL BUGS ON POTATOES

CHICAGO, June 23.—John Loux, telegraph operator at Waukegan has a plan today which he thinks may put the Paris Green manufacturers almost out of business. Want Ad Brings Results and Lands Realtor at That

Do want ads bring results? Ask Mrs. Geo. L. Weller, 324 Oxford avenue. Mrs. Weller inserted a want ad in The Chronicle-Telegram classified column yesterday and last evening the new occupants were comfortably settled in the furnished rooms.

Many people are of the opinion that want ads are never read by the subscribers of this paper. This case proves that they are read and on this occasion must have been the first part of the paper to receive the reader's attention.

The want ad landed a real estate agent.

WILD EXCITEMENT AS MAN SHOOTS UP SOFT DRINK STAND

Joe Nyuscryak Shot Six Times at Joe Powrosz, One Bullet Entering Abdomen; Not Expected to Live—Enraged Man Then Runs Down Street and Suddenly Fires Bullet Into Jaw —Both Taken to Hospital

A possible murder and suicide took place shortly after noon today at Joe Pokrosz, soft drink parlor on West Third street.

According to an investigation made by the police, Joe Nyuscryak, 45, of Western Heights went into Joe Pokrosz's place and found him stooped over moping up some water on the floor. Pokrosz is 53.

"Got a sandwich?" said Nyuscryak.

Pokrosz did not answer, but kept at work.

"You haven't got long to live," said Nyuscryak, as he fired a bullet from a revolver into Pokrosz's back, followed by four more bullets, none of which hit their intended victim. Pokrosz fell to the floor as his assailant ran out of the building.

Nyuscryak ran around onto West River street, loaded his revolver, placed the barrel in his mouth and fired probably twice, as two chambers of the revolver are empty. The bullets took effect in his mouth and neck, and he fell to the sidewalk bleeding from his self-inflicted wounds.

The police were summoned and the emergency wagon in charge of Patrolman Southam took the wounded men to the hospital. At present physicians are unable to state how serious the men are hurt. It is understood that the bullet that struck Pokrosz entered his bowels, and serious results may follow. The bullets fired by Nyuscryak entered his mouth and were deflected into his neck.

Friends of the two men say that there has been bad blood between them for some time. At one time Nyuscryak ran a restaurant in Seiss block on West River street, in which Pokrosz had some interest. The business broke up, and Pokrosz sued Nyuscryak in Justice Court. Since then the two men have not been on speaking terms, and it is believed that a spirit of revenge caused Nyuscryak to attempt to murder his victim and then kill himself.

Late reports from the hospital are that Nyuscryak, who did the shooting has a broken jaw and the bullet is lodged under the eye. He is not seriously injured.

However, the bullet that struck Pokrosz entered his stomach, and may prove fatal. An X ray negative is being taken to determine the extent of his injury.

AUTOISTS KILL CHICAGO MAN ON PORCH

CHICAGO, June 23.—As his wife and son were sitting on a rear porch, waiting for Tony Marchese, owner of a saloon, to come home, Marchese was riddled with shotgun slugs and killed early today by unidentified men in an auto. They are believed to have killed Marchese for revenge in a feud. He was slain directly in front of his home.

Mrs. Marchese ran to the side walk and found her husband dead, with the death car speeding away. It was found that seventeen slugs entered his body. Mrs. Marchese denied her husband had received threatening letters.

Man and Woman To Be Deported

Sam Lemone of Lorain was brought to jail from Lorain yesterday to serve nine months for conducting a disorderly house in that city. Today William H. Flynn, U. S. immigration inspector acting on instructions from Washington, came to the jail and served deportation papers on Lemone. He then went to Lorain, where Lemone's wife, Elaine, is being held in jail on a similar charge, to bring her to jail here.

She will also be served with deportation papers. Both are charged with accepting money for immoral purposes. Inspector Flynn stated that Lemone was a Greek and his wife a Russian. Flynn will take testimony in the case while here and will forward it to Washington. As soon as deportation papers are received, both man and wife will be taken to New York and sent back to their native countries.

Flynn also expressed the belief that Harry Katsiakes, alias Harry Pappas, who was fined in police court Monday for running a disorderly house in this city, was wanted by his department. He was convicted in Youngstown for the same offense, said Flynn, and got away after paying his fine.

COALITION OF LABORING MEN NOW URGED

BY MILDRED MORRIS
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

DENVER, June 23.—A coalition of the railroad workers, the coal miners and the metal trades to secure government ownership and democratic control of the railroads coal mines and steel industry is predicted here today as the result of the action of the convention of the American Federation of Labor in authorizing the council to draft the most sweeping program of industrial democracy ever proposed by organized labor.

John L. Lewis held of the United Mine Workers of America announced that a plan now being worked out to place the gret coal mines of the country under the ownership of the government, with a system of which the miners will have a voice will be brought before the miners' convention next September. To put it into effect will require a constitutional amendment and a long campaign, according to Lewis.

In the meantime, he stated, the United Mine Workers of America, with its 400,000 membership, will place its strength behind the railroad unions in their fight for government ownership and democratic control of the railroads.

Lewis and other leders declared the action of the labor convention yesterday in adopting by an overwhelming vote, the resolution of the railroad unions providing for a program to apply the principle of government ownership and democratic management to all basic industries.

"The most forward step taken by the American Federation of Labor within the forty years of its existence. The resolution is based on the program of industrial democracy launched here the other day by Glenn E. Plumb, father of the Plumb plan for control of the railroads. The declaration of his progra mthat labor should receive the same return from investment in "labor energy" as capital from financial investment will be the basis of the program of legislative action to be drafted and published by the executive council as a result of yesterday's vote, railroad leaders announced today. A campaign will be inaugurated among the metal trades to include the steel industry in the drive, it was stated.

With most of the committees having concluded their reports, the convention on resuming its sessions today, endeavored to speed up work to adjourn by Saturday. The only big fight predicted now on the floor of the convention outside of the election contest, will come on international relations.

The election is expected to be held tomorrow. Most of the forecasts prophesy the re-election of Samuel Gompers. The supporters of John L. Lewis continue to be confident of victory. They claim at least 20,000 of the 38,000 votes to be cast, while the Gompers camp claims more than 23,000.

IT TOOK TWO MINUTES FOR EXPLANATION

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 23.—It took Rear Admiral William Snowden Sims just two minutes by the clock today to "explain" to Secretary of the navy Denby his famous "jackass" speech in London, which resulted in his leave being cancelled and his being peremptorily ordered to return to the United States.

Admiral Sims informed the secretary, in one of the shortest interviews on record that he had been misquoted by the press in the reports of his speech cabled to this country, whereupon Secretary Denby asked him to reduce his explanation to writing and that ended the "carpet session" from a personal standpoint, at least.

At the conclusion of the short session, Secretary of the navy Denby received newspaper reporters and said:

"Admiral Sims denied the accounts of the statements attributed to him. He said that he had been incorrectly quoted. I gave him a written memorandum, setting forth these statements and asked him to inform me in writing, where he was incorrectly quoted and to tell me, if he could, what he did say in that speech."

Secretary Denby would give no hint as to the nature of his future action in the Sims case and he would add nothing to the brief statement made at the close of the interview.

It was understood however, that there will be no more action in the case until Admiral Sims had forwarded his statement to the secretary in writing, pointing out the differences, if there are any, in what he actually said and what he is reported in press despatches to have said concerning some American "jackasses."

Admiral Sims chatted with reporters, while he posed for a swarm of photographers. Then he strolled into the secretary's office. Almost before the photographers had closed up their shutters, he was out again.

"Gee, he almost met himself going in," said one of the photographers, as he struggled with a recalcitrant shutter, after taking a string of pictures.

At the secretary's office, Admiral Sims strode down the hall to the office of Admiral Koontz, director of naval operations, where he stopped in, as he explained, on a matter of personal business.

Admiral Sims spent an hour in Admiral Koontz' office, at the end of which he emerged with a statement which he had written out in longhand for Secretary Denby. The admiral took the document to the secretary's office and left it with him.

"I have given the secretary my statement," said the admiral. "If there is anything further to be said on this story, Secretary Denby will say it." He then returned to his hotel.

OBERLIN HOME IS BURGLARIZED

OBERLIN, June 23.—Bandits, or house breakers have even invaded this quiet place. On Tuesday night the home of J. H. Horn, Union street, was visited and a fine old watch and $12 in money was secured by the intruders.

That the men did not dare take the chance of starting the electric lights to aid them in their search for plunder was evidenced by the fact that every room they visited was strewn with burned out ends of matches.

In one chamber where they found the watch and money, evidently this method of illumination handicapped them in their operation, as they passed a pocketbook containing $20 which lay at the foot of the bed and likewise overlooked another purse containing $10.

Thus it will be seen that their timidity or haste deprived them of a goodly bit of pin money.

The burglars, who it is quite certain were amateurs, gained entrance by slipping the fastening of a window which they raised and then found it easy to slip inside. And it was also determined that they had either been carefully watching the premises before making the break or at least were familiar with the habits and movements of the inmates so that they were able to tell just when the occupants of the house would be absent.

THINK GREEKS WILL ACCEPT ALLIES' TERMS

PARIS, June 23.—There has been a decided change of sentiment in Athens, upon the allies offer of mediation in the Turco-Greek war and the impression is gaining ground that the Greek government will accept the allies' proposal with certain reservations, said a wireless despatch from Athens today. Greece was warned that if she continued war against the Turkish nationalists, she must bear the responsibility for developments in the near east.

He also alleges that she spent much of his money in traveling around and on one occasion, said she was going to Bedford, Mass., and instead went to Chicago, being gone some time. He charges that she also used a hot poker on him and has kept bad company. The court is asked to shut her off from any participation in his property and for such other relief as the court can give.

Hold Title Bout July Fourth If It Rains July 2

By JACK VEIOCK,
I. N. S. Sporting Editor.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 23.—Work on the monster arena in which Jack Dempsey will defend his title against Georges Carpentier on July 2 is being rapidly pushed to completion.

The arena is a veritable ocean of lumber, with tier on tier of beach seats in the eight sections stretching out from its center, where the ring will stand. The diameter of the big wooden bowl, from rim to rim, is more than a city block, yet those who occupy seats farthest away from the ring side will be able to see the fight and the manner in which the arena is being built is unique.

Promoter Tex Rickard, with Georges Carpentier, Francois Descamps, and Governor Edwards visited the scene Wednesday afternoon Carpentier was visibly impressed. His face lit up in amazement at the size of the place. He spent almost an hour inspecting it and his verdict was "marvelous."

Promotor Rickard is as enthusiastic over his big arena as a boy over a Christmas treet.

"What if it rains July 2 There is no protection for the fighters or the crowd," it was suggested to Rickard.

"If rain interferes ," he replied, "we'll have to hold the battle over until July 4," he replied.

WILSON DIVORCE IS DROPPED FROM DOCKET

The divorce case of Nellie Wilson of Wellington, whose husband, Harry Wilson, lives in this city, has been dismissed, the parties having decided to forget past differences and go to living together again. Mrs. Wilson had charged her husband with gross neglect of duty in failing to properly support her and he had replied by denying such charges, and laying the blame for their estrangement upon her parents.

office this morning to be a certainty. Saws had been smuggled to the prisoners by visitors, Sheriff Stannard believes. It is thought that the prisoners must have been engaged upon the work of sawing their way to freedom for at least two weeks. Bits of putty and a cap were found in the now empty cells, showing the devices used to cleverly hide their work from deputies on service in the jail.

Curtail Jail Freedom.

As a result of the getaway, prisoners charged with murder hereafter will not be permitted in the "bull pen." Visitors days have also been curtailed by Sheriff Stannard's order, and hereafter prisoners can see their friends only on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, instead of five days a week as heretofore.

Lightning Halts Marriage Rites

AKRON, June 23.—Lightning brought a sudden end to wedding services planned for this afternoon at the U. B. church in Lockwood Corners near here.

Miss Marcia Swartz and Paul R. Trudeau were to be married today. Last night the bride on the arm of her father went to the church for the wedding rehearsal. As they walked up the church aisle, a bolt of lightning pierced the building, striking down the bride and stunning the remainder of the party. The injured were brought to a hospital here and reports today are that while all will recover, the bride is in no condition for wedding.

COLUMBUS—Showing his citizenship papers, and venders' license, Gussoppe Panzona, thanked Municipal Judge Seidel when the latter dismissed the charge of begging which had been preferred against Panzona after he was arrested at High and Long streets with his hand organ and monkey.

GIRL'S STATEMENT WILL HELP ELYRIANS

Many women will profit by the following statement of one of their sex: "I was afraid to eat on account of stomach trouble. Even rice did not agree. After taking Adler-i-ka I can eat anything." Adler-i-ka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing foul matter which poisoned stomach. EXCELLENT for gas on the stomach, or sour stomach. Guards against appendicitis. It brings out poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. J. Adolphus Ebert, druggist, 571 W. Broad.—Adv.

HOW TO INCREASE WEIGHT AND PUT ON SOLID STAY-THERE FLESH

What difference does it make to you how EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES puts good, solid, red-blooded, healthy flesh on your bones as long as it does it and makes you feel 100 per cent better at the same time?

Evans' Triple Phosphates is something new and something that really does what is claimed for it. Start to take it today with each meal, and in four days you'll know that you are growing more robust and feel stronger and more active. Continue with the treatment faithfully for 10 days more and note with satisfaction that your nerves are growing more responsive; that your ambition does not lag but is cheerfully obedient to your wishes, that a touch of color is appearing in your cheeks and that your occupation ceases to become a task and is a pleasure. Notice that never before in your whole life have you enjoyed living as you do today. Weigh yourself at the end of one month and let the scales tell the story.

Harry A. Crandall and all good druggists have agreed to supply thin, run-down, under-developed persons with the understanding that if one month's treatment doesn't give most gratifying results your money is waiting for you. But don't take it even though it accomplishes wonders in nervous digestive troubles and as a general nerve tonic, unless you really want to put on flesh and gain weight.—Advt.

...hy Dicky Called Madge "an Incurable Optimist."

...t is it, I often ask myself re-

..."I want to see him when Mari-

...them in his picture books," I
...wisely, then stopped, for Dicky
...portentously.
...embers 'em I tell you!" he re-
...mphatically. "I did the same
...her says, when I was his age"
...a complacence that made it
...r me to suppress a smile. The
...te I was glad indeed that I
...my face sober, for Dicky re-
...grinned, evidently with a be-
...ation of his own absurdity.

...the Car?"

...that you don't realize what

..."Now, on his mother's, of

...ed the room and kissed me,
...soothed his sleep-rumpled hair

...omanhood, my heart shed its
...imism at any hint of tender-
...husband's part.
...the car!" Dicky asked as he took his arm from my waist and began to retrieve his scattered clothing, flung wherever he had happened to be standing when he removed each article the night before.

"In the barn down here," I replied. "I walked over and back this morning, and, oh, Dicky, the sunrise was wonderful!"

"Stingy thing," he commented aggrievedly. "Wonder you wouldn't let me have a look-in at a view like that."

A Swift Change.

I looked at him closely, decided that he actually meant what he said, and wondered what he would have done if I had wakened him an hour earlier with a request to look at the sunrise. The memory of his crustiness gave an unconscious edge to my voice.

"It is a wonder, isn't it?" I replied banally enough, and stopped abruptly, self-reproachful at my own folly. I wished to keep Dicky in good humor, and yet could not refrain from the sly little sting. Fortunately, however, his good humor had been so thoroughly restored that he paid no attention to my remark save a little grimace at me.

"If you'll get out of here," he suggested gruffly, "I can get dressed in a jiffy, but as it is I am so intrigued by your fascinating conversation that I can't get my mind on such common things as socks. Can you get the car out alone, or do you want me to help you?"

I put my hand to my forehead in imitation of a uniformed chauffeur's gesture.

"I'll have it round to the entrance for you directly, sir," I said demurely, then blew him a saucy kiss and ran down the stairs and on out to the barn.

Dicky must have hurried at a rate far exceeding his usual dilatoriness, for it was but a few minutes after I brought the car to the front gate that he ran out and joined me.

"Gee, but this is sure great out here!" he said appreciatively as we sped down the road. "If only they had shower baths—and—"

"I know," I said sympathetically, for I, too, missed that comfort of civilization. "But never mind, it will be only a few days now before I can run you down to the ocean or the bay every morning for a dip before breakfast."

"Hail the incurable optimist!" Dicky chanted, then as we turned into the gate and saw his mother seated on the veranda, watching for us with a forbidding look, he added under his breath:

"But you have to be just that with mother on the job!"

If it were possible to collect in a reservoir all the blood pumped by a human heart in one year, that reservoir would be large enough to contain about 1,700,000 gallons of water.

Re-entering the shed the men dug beneath the animal's bed until they found the entrance to a cellar. Mike Boeh, 53; Pete Palovna, 53, and Viiam Grgih were arrested, each charged with illegally making intoxicating liquors. Viiam, also, was accused of bribery. "DEVIL'S PASS KEY."

Seldom has such marvelous fidelity to detail been shown in any production as Erich von Stroheim displays in his latest feature, "The Devil's Pass Key," now on view at the American theater. The Parisian atmosphere, with its streets, shops and famous landmarks, the races, gardens, theaters, are all reproduced so unerringly that one almost doubts the statement that the picture was made in America.

CITIZENS WATCH FOR SUSPICIOUS PERSONS

Scarcely a night passes that the police do not receive reports that prowlers or suspicious characters are seen in various parts of the city, and they always respond in an effort to round them up.

Last night a report came from the west side that a tough looking man was hanging around Lodi street about 10:30. The patrol wagon was sent over and they found their man all right. He proved to be a laboring man of good reputation who was waiting for a friend who was expected on a yellow line car. The friend came in while the officers were there, and they returned to the station house. Many such calls result from the nervousness of the public but occasionally an arrest is made.

La GRANGE AND COLUMBIA SUNDAY SCHOOL CONCLAVE

COLUMBIA— The Columbia-La Grange District Sunday School convention met in the churches of Columbia Station, Sunday, June, 19, 1921.

Using M. C. Yeagle's expression as to the attendance, "If this is your first convention, with this crowd, what are you going to do with them next year?"

All the seven districts were well represented, Columbia, of course, leading.

The main features of the morning program were the model Sunday school conducted by Prof. Shelton, superintendent of Elyria public schools.

Many helpful suggestions were given the teachers from the various schools. The address was given by M. C. Yeagle, who emphasized the responsibility resting upon the parent. He also stated that if the disrespect of the children to their parent increased in the next twenty-five years in proportion to the increase of the past twenty-five years our nation would be ruined. Statistics show that of two hundred and fifty churches of of one denomination in the past twenty years, twenty have taken up the ministry.

People are to blame for this condition. They do not expect the Sunday school to be of service, as in business, but merely a place to send the children.

It is hardly a recognized fact that if all the people of Cleveland would attend Sunday school one unday morning, there wouldn't be standing room. Why? Because the church is not prepared for them, but the parks and amusement places are able to accommodate them, for they have made the preparation and want the crowd.

The Junior church was conducted by Rev. L. E. Wright, pastor of the M. E. church of Fields. About one hundred and fifty children attended this service. The singing was lead by J. Bastard, which was greatly enjoyed.

The afternoon program consisted of the story hour, conducted by Mrs. C. Jackson, Elyria, and Mrs. M. Hartter, Columbia. This was a very interesting hour. The children were an appreciative audience and listened closely to the "Sketch of Japanese Life," and stories.

The Young People's meeting was held in the town hall with Miss Marie Mueller, leader of the young ladies, and W. P. Gollmar, leader of the young men.

The officers were elected and plans for the organization of classes in the Sunday schools were made.

E. P. Poste, the county president spoke on the county program. He emphasized the needs of the Sunday school and the great task before it.

Mrs. C. F. Bartenfeld, Lorain, discussed "The Church and Her Children."

Giving the youth something to do in the church, was W. P. Gollmar's solution of keeping the youth in the church. He discouraged the use of motion pictures and other attractions in the church life.

Rev. John Leslie Lobingier, assistant pastor of the United church Oberlin, discussed "Religious Education in the Home, Church and School."

At the business meeting, the executive committee, Rev. Grady, president; Clyde Rose, vice president; Adelaide Harding, secretary, and P. H. Rogers, treasurer, were duly installed for the coming year.

The question box was in charge of M. C. Yeagle, who held a lively discussion, even though the hour was late.

The sounding note of the convention was to bring the children into a closer relationship with God, so they may be leaders, and thus be of service to their community.

CITY BAND GIVES EXTRA GOOD CONCERT

The concert given by the City Band last evening was enjoyed by a large crowd in spite of the threatened rain. The music was of a high grade and showed the efforts of Director Arthur Giles to furnish a good band was bringing results. The organization is well balanced, has plenty of reeds, and is composed of first class musicians.

BRIDGEPORT—Ohio miners, at a meeting in Columbus, formed the "District Co-operative League of Ohio," which is to operate co-operative stores in Ohio mining towns. It is planned to supply the miners with necessities at cost. A central buying and distributing branch will be arranged. Nine directors were named to make arrangements.

BIG ULCER ALL HEALED

"Here is another letter that makes me happy," says Peterson, of Buffalo. "One that I would rather have than a thousand dollars.

"Money isn't everything in this world. There is many a big-hearted rich man who would give all he has on earth to be able to produce a remedy with such mighty healing power as Peterson's Ointment, to sell at all druggists for 50 cents a large box."

Dear Sirs:—

"I was an untold sufferer from old running sores and ulcers. I had tried most everything without any relief from pain. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the first box took away the pain that that had not left me before in years, and after using just nine dollars worth of the salve I am cured. The ulcer was 5 inches by 6 1-2 inches. Is all healed and I can walk. Never, never will be I without Peterson's again.

"You may use this to recommend your ointment, if you wish. I cannot say enough to praise it." Yours truly, Mrs. Albert Southcott, Medina, N. Y. Mail orders filed by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advt.

Take a Peek at Betty

Here we have Betty Ross Clark.

A descendant of Betsy Ross?

What a temptation to her press agent! But no, he is an honest young man, and right truthfully he speaks up to deny it.

How come? Well, the truth is that Betsy died without issue, as the lawyers phrase it. She had no children, which leaves Betty Ross Clark far, so far as the designer of Old Glory is concerned.

Here we see her playfully peering through a coil of rope she picked up at the Lasky studio between scenes in "The Traveling Salesman," in which she appears as leading woman for Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle.

TAKE ACTION TO CURB WHEAT GAMBLING

CHICAGO, June 23—Following attacks upon it by congressmen, state legislatures were busy today devising "self cleaning" regulations to relieve the odium in gambling life's necessity. President Joseph H. Griffin of the board of trade, said drastic amendments would be suggested to:

1. Provide against manipulation of the market, either upward or downward.
2. Prevent over trading, spectacular trading, matching orders and against all other practices not in line with good business ethics.
3. Regulate all operations tending to have an undue influence upon prices through the trading of individuals and others.
4. Provide strict censorship of market news with punishment to members for circulating false news.
5. Permanent trading in futures, but not limit such trading to a specified period.
6. Abolish all indemnities.

Probe of Penitentiary Is Held Legal by Price

COLUMBUS, June 23—The legislative committee probing conditions at the penitentiary may conduct a personal inspection of the big prison today or tomorrow. Subpoenas will be issued for a large number of witnesses to appear before the committees, it was said.

Dr. Morton W. Bland, Columbus who made a preliminary survey of conditions told the committee that a psychiatrist is most needed at the penitentiary to examine and classify prisoners acording to their mentality.

Advocating that the idle house be "blown up with dynamite" Dr. Bland said it is the "most disgraceful condition in any institution and is a disgrace and shock to the state of Ohio."

Declaring that "worst of all is the close association of the rabid criminal with the man who has just 'slipped'" Dr. Bland said that a psychiatrist was needed to classify and segregate the prisoners.

Attorney General Price has ruled that the legislative committee has a legal right to probe conditions at the penitentiary.

"It's cheaper to rent than to buy." is a pet remark often heard. But did you ever talk to a "cheaper to rent than to buy sort of a man ten years later?" COLLEGE ROMANCE OF AMHERST HIGH TEACHER that Thomas Latham Smith was not the man she wished to marry. They had no quarrel, but discuss- ed the proposed union with delib- eration, and at Miss Willett's re- quest decided to call the wedding off.

"They parted good friends and Miss Willett accompanied Mr. Smith to his train and bade him a "platonic" goodbye.

"Both are well educated, good stock, and both aged about 27 years, old enough to act discreetly. Mr. Smith was not seriously disap- pointed and departed in a matter of fact way to his position in a col- lege in Arkansas.

"We will carry the attached, with appropriate comment. The clipping should be credited to the Wooster paper, where the wedding was to have been solemnized and where all the details lay."

The Plymouth Advertiser in its issue tomorrow will say:

Bride Goes Mountain—Romance Of College Days A Failure

The deferred marriage of Miss Florence Willett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Willett, to Thomas Latham Smith, of Arkansas, has occasioned the comment that such an event usually excites.

Miss Willett is a most estimable young woman, intelligent and dis- creet. Mr. Smith is also exemplary, educated and worthy. Miss Willett felt that her marriage to Mr. Smith should not be despite the advanced plans, and proposed that it be deferred.

There was no quarrel and no argument. Simply a sensible delib- eration of a very important matter and the two parties at interest parted good friends.

Friends of Miss Willett say that she did right. Marriage is a sacred relationship and the time to weigh such an important matter is before the ceremony.

Truth is, the incident concerns only Miss Willett and Mr. Smith. The public has no place to lodge its judgment. As a news item you cannot avoid the conclusion that it is of more interest to the pub- lic when postponed than if it had been solemnized. Nevertheless we speak briefly and discreetly, but not without full approval of Miss Willett's action.

The Wooster paper, where the details of the wedding were laid, carried the following:

Heart Breaking Climax

A pretty Wooster college ro- mance that failed to materialize had at least temporary ending on College hill the evening before commencement, says the Wooster Record, when the happy bride-to- be left on an evening train for her home.

The groom-to-have-been was in Woster for a day or so, but an ef- fort to locate him Saturday was unsuccessful.

The bride-to-have-been is Miss Florence Nightengale Willett, of Plymouth. The groom-to-have-been is Thomas Latham Smith, an in- structor in Arkansas Cumberland college at Clarksville, Arkansas.

The arrangements for the wed- ding it was stated in college cir- cles Saturday were extensive. The ceremony was to have been per- formed in Memorial chapel by the Rev. Doctor George N. Luccock, pastor of the church, who, up to a short time before the ceremony had not been notified there was to be no ceremony.

Both young people were mem- bers of the Wooster college class of 1917. They were happily engaged during their college career and [illegible]

JOY BROUGHT INTO HOME

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Restoring Mrs. Benz to Health

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We have had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days is all they have lived. As I was going to have another, I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says, 'That is a very healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show this letter."—Mrs. C. W. Benz, 131 3rd Ave., Altoona, Pa.

No woman can realize the joy and happiness this healthy babe brought into the home of Mrs. Benz, unless they have had a like experience.

Every woman who suffers from any ailments peculiar to her sex, as indi- cated by backaches, headaches, bear- ing-down pains, irregularities, ner- vousness and "the blues" should not rest until they have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

PATRIOTISM, POLITICS, AND PERSONAL ENDS

Many people are in politics only as a part of their business, and only to the extent that it aids their business. They are members of a particular organization. It is a business organization, or it is a craft organization. It has its president and its secretary; it often has its legislative committee. If there is something to be gained for the craft or for the organization along political lines the members are apprised of it and they get busy. They are booming the particular thing, whatever it may be. The reason is because their secretary has showed them where it was to their interest to do so. Often they take it blindly. They accept it unquestioningly. They are vociferously and oracularly out head-long to help because they are boosting their own game.

On the other hand when the same official notifies them that there is something that is likely to hurt them, the whole bunch grab hammers and the noise immediately begins, and it sounds like a boiler factory. This is the result of organization. It is being more highly developed in our political, social, and industrial life every day.

We are not objecting to men being interested naturally for their own protection and for their own aid; they always have been and they always will be. But what we do desire to insist on is that these same red-blooded, two-fisted, upstanding sons of the race should be interested in political conditions when their particular trade or business is not directly affected by any immediate issues.

Every matter that is proposed in a city council, in a state legislature, or in Congress, or in any other place of legislative or executive authority is a proposition which affects men, or women, or children. It affects human beings. They are our brothers, our fathers, our mothers, or our sisters. Their rights are our rights. The invasion of their rights is the invasion of our rights. Motherhood and childhood are more than flesh and blood. They are ideals. The interference with a mother's right in Georgia is an interference with a mother's rights in Ohio, and all mother's rights everywhere. Liberty and love and justice and virtue know no lines or boundaries of country or climate. They are principles which are eternal and all inclusive; they permeate everywhere. They cannot be hemmed in any more than can the atmosphere and an attack upon the min any form any where is an attack upon them everywhere else and as believers in this principle we should be ready to defend them as determinedly and devotedly when brought to our attention by other causes as when only affecting our own.

Not only is this good moral theory, but it is good political and business practice. The man who is only interested when his own toes are tread upon, only when his own check is slapped, only when his own dollar is touched will soon lose his power to command the support of others for his protection and morally he has lost it the moment he withdraws his interest from the other man's protection.

If Jones robs Brown, Jones cannot settle with Brown by making restitution and thereby go scott free. By robbing Brown, he has in principle robbed all men. The sin is not against Brown alone but against all Brown's kind who have gathered together to form the state. If Brown agrees with Jones to even keep quiet about the matter on condition Jones will return the money Brown is guilty with Jones. The state decides he has compounded a felony and he must go to the penitentiary.

This is good morals and good law and we should apply it in all our political practices. The time will come when we will be so clear in our thinking and in our power to discern that the man who uses his power and force and personal vote in political life only to the end of adding to the amount in his till, even though he operate only as a private citizen will not be far removed in turpitude from the official who sells his vote for private gain. Both of them have prostituted their power of sovereignty to the extent to which it has been interest to them not for the public good but for personal ends.

THE FARMERS AND WAGE EARNERS

Samuel Gompers never stated a truer thing than when he declared that there were those who were attempting to break up any possible alliance between the great body of farmers and the wage earners.

A real alliance between the agriculturalists and those who toil with their hands would make the rest of us hustle to pay the bills. We have to do it now and we're lamenting the grade and can hardly make it. What would it be in such a case.

It is a rare day now that we do not read of from a half dozen to a dozen deaths in the rebellion that is taking place in Ireland.

MUCH ADO ABOUT 2½ CTS.

The powers of men appear to be unlimitable. Like the well known cyclone, he destroys everything that comes in his way, except cyclones. When gas proved insufficient, he discovered electricity; when pavements became slippery he invented non-skid tires. It has been said that necessity is the mother of invention. But is seems more plausible to say that man is the master of necessity.

Now, what seems to be man's latest sensational endeavor, is the announcement that a bill has been introduced into congress making legal a 2 1-2 cent piece, or half a nickel.

For years man has been keeping out of fractions just as women kept out of politics. But in the new era, the nation must have its women politicians and its fractional coin pieces. Both will keep us a whole lot busier than in the past for both have more or less difficult to understand.

Some people, perhaps, cannot see any good in a 2 1-2 cent piece. It will develop intricacies, of course. Already many are heavily laden with thoughts of income taxes, golf handicaps and the latest quotations on the price of asparagus at the Public Market. Add to this, daily contact with a 2 1-2 cent piece and one's life becomes dominated by figures.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle (Rep.)

RESTORING GOOD HUMOR.

"Re-education in good-humor" puts in fewest words the expression of one of the world needs of the day. The enlightening phrase originated with a Parisian journalist Louis Forest, some weeks ago. He perceived what must crop out here and there despite the well-proved temperamental self-balance of his admirable countrymen: a weakness for dwelling mentally among the darker things—the sorrows, the embitterments, the disillusions, the misgivings. It may easily happen that those who give in to this tendency will grow less apt to perceive and improve the brighter side of life. The cavern too long frequented, its denizen loses his power to perceive light itself.

All this holds true here with us as well as among the French, save for a possible difference of degree. The "re-education in good-humor" might with profit take some pupils among the disappointed business, service and union labor men for whom in their estimation the sun shines no more. The so-called American sense of humor consists largely of this very good humor which all must keep or, having lost, regain. It forms a national resource that we cannot allow a few years of hard usage to dissipate.

In national matters lies a field for restored good-humor quite as important as the personal field. A more cheerful disposition to see the brighter possibilities would have rendered the German nation willing to reach the present terms of repayment months ago. Every one would have been that much farther ahead on the way to economic recovery. The Polish insurgents now rampant in Upper Silesia might, with a little greater amenability to the more favorable side of things, have seen that they would probably obtain a considerable share of the Silesian mine area under the plebiscite in any case, and that nothing justified the pessimism which prompted a violent, ruthless mood.

Without going into the details of national conduct, one may safely say that the nations in general as well as individuals must seek in their policies the guidance of a new serenity, of the kind achieved by the force of internal resolve to dominate the complex of dread and bitterness. This is not a counsel of perfection, for nations that have acquitted themselves so brilliantly as have the great democracies during the last seven years. Those who follow it cannot but gain. The world approaches a time when confidence and belief in better things will become the order of the day.—Baltimore News (Ind.)

A LITTLE SPINACH.

In the spring our thoughts lightly turn to greens. Let them not turn so lightly. They are costly. We buy a small quantity without considering the price, and let it go at that.

But the case is worth a little study, for greens are representative.

The other day a farmer in Texas, who had a field of spinach, shipped a lot to Chicago, receiving five dollars per ton. The freight bill was $20.66, or more than six times as much as the farmer received for his produce.

But we have only reached the commission merchant. A few steps more and we arrive at the dinner table of some banker in Evanston or some laborer on Halstead street, where spinach costs $300 a ton—rich fare indeed if we do not forget the far-away Texas agriculturist jingling his five dollars in his jeans, and looking in the store window at a $12 pair of shoes for Sunday.

Thirty dollars freight is six time five dollars, and three hundred dollars a ton retail is sixty times five dollars.

It is said that greens are especially rich in iron, which would account, perhaps, for the heavy freight bill. But not even Mr. Gary ever thought of charging $300 a ton for iron, or even for steel.

The man who will solve the problem of how to bridge the gulf between the farmer and the ultimate consumer, guaranteeing the producer what he deserves and protecting the eater from the devourer, will deserve a monument in every court house square in America. — Lexington Leader (Rep.)

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

ELYRIA, O., June 23, '21.

God forbid that we should be compelled to return to conditions that existed prior to 1917. There must be a sturdy recognition of the dangers of modern society. Is the human race being directed back ward? What then is the duty of the humble citizen in all countries, especially in these United States where the obligations of a free government intensify his responsibility? Is he to shut his eyes to the admittedly existing evils? or is he to turn them doggedly backward to the ages of slow progress. Even in days long ago, it was recognized that it was labor which has created wealth, and capital, is merely wealth stored up, is due to labor for its production, preservation, and increase.

The fruits of toil should in justice belong to the toiler. Morality and not mere expediency ought to be the rule of the market. Men have no warrant for ceasing to be manly because they are handling goods on a large scale, or dealing with stocks and shares even in Wall Street.

When we look out over the world we see unrighteousness flourishing. Usury, which is held to be a crime against God and man, is by no means extinct; on the contrary, it has widened its borders and multiplied its victories. Political economy has turned this system. Capitalism which has thrown into the hands of a few the control of labor and of the World commerce, so that a small number of opulent and amazingly rich individuals have laid a yoke almost equal to that of slavery upon the infinite multitude of the proletarians, that is to say of workmen who possess no capital. These things are sadly exemplified in the monarchies of Europe, but experience proves that their baleful influence has made itself felt in the United States also.

The disastrous consequences of capitalism without check or limit do not follow upon any one form of Government. It is a sin against justice when one man appropriates whether in the shape of profit, or of tax, or of interest, the fruits of another man's industry without rendering him an equal return. I do not say that the return must be directly economical, but certainly I mean that there ought to be an adequate return of some sort. The rich man, therefore, whose riches are nothing else than the surplus fruits of his fellows toil, is bound, first, to render a just human wage to the toiler. The resources of civilization are earned by one set of men, and disposed of by another. It stands to reason that those who distribute are bound to do so for the good of the social organization which they do, in fact, govern. The ministering class of capitalists, supposing they minister, deserve fair wages, but those wages are most unfair which cannot be paid except at the cost of a permanent center of misery and demoralization, such as the capitals of Europe have long contained within them, and some of the American cities may now see growing up in their midst. Therefore, as "the end of all commerce is not individual gain," so it is righteousness, and not anarchic revolution, which insists on teaching capitalists their duties toward the organism which supports them, let us reckon up some of these duties.

Negatively, capitalists have no right to interfere with the workmen's right to combine in trades unions; and hence they cannot fairly require their workmen to give up belongings to such associations, nor can they make it the condition of a just contract. Again, they have no right to take advantage of the distress of human beings by beating down the price of labor; to do so is usury and has been condemned time and time again by good authorities nor must they lay upon ther workmen inhuman tasks, whether as regards length, quality or conditions of labor; the protection of women and children is in its idea as truly economic as it is Christian, and capitalists ought not to complain of it.

The lowest fair wage is one which, although varying according to surroundings and time of life, will enable the worker to fulfill the ordinary duties of humanity, and to provide against sickness and old age.

Capital has frequently deprived labor of a just living wage, without any thought as to whether he could support his family decently at the price paid for his labor. If capitalists do not become servants of the common wealth they will be its masters. The people should insist by custom and legislation, on making the contract between capitalist and working men a just human bargain, and set about reforming our legislature root and branch,—our political freedom should bring with it economic justice. The declaration of independence is written upon American hearts; it is the earnest hope of peace loving Americans, that by peaceful and appropriate legislation they can't put an end to these things which have lasted too long.

Labor unions are the natural result of the struggle of the workmen of a certain class to obtain better conditions. They are simply a number of individuals banded together for the purpose of accomplishing those things which the individual cannot accomplish alone. An employer will join a trust or association that fixes price or limits output, but grows indignant over the so-called tyranny of labor unions.

The question of labor and wages is as old as the world itself. Throughout the centuries it has confronted every age. Empires rise and fall. Other questions come and go, yet the question of labor and wages is ever paramount—ever before the public. It always has been—always will be. As a rule, the workingman has no money in reserve and must of necessity sell his labor at once. The individual laborer is at an enormous disadvantage.

The present desperate situation is due entirely to pernicious speculation. The right management will bring preservation of industries and be the salvation of the many in the cities and towns scattered all over this broad land.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Senator Smoot has gotten in bad with the government female employees because in a speech he stated some of them made their wedding toggery during "working hours." He certainly must be a brave man, this Smoot, and he comes from a Mormon state, too.

Small "favors" retained and larger ones respectfully refused no doubt is the life policy of the thief who returned by mail a $25,000 liberty bond, stolen from the Jacksonville, Fla., business man's safe. He attached the words, "It's too big to handle safely." Size was handy that time.

If Great Britain settled her debt to the U. S. by ceding to us the West Indies, might we not be adding to our already big race problem? The West Indians are usually people of ebony hued color who speak English with a highly flavored "cockney" accent. Would that be an acquisition?

TEN YEARS AGO

Thirteen hundred Elyria Sunday school scholars marched through the streets on Sunday in a Children's day parade. Joseph Smith, 92, and Everett Palmer, 3, marched side by side.

Newsboys and citizens clubbed together and raised $150 to buy Pat Schamel, crippled newsboy, a wooden leg.

The Elyria ball team met the famous Cuban Stars at Athletic park. The result was a fifteen inning contest which resulted in a victory for the Cubans by a score of 2 to 1. Ahlman pitched for Elyria and it was the best game played here in a long time.

The city purchased two Robinson automobile fire pumping engines for the fire department. It was planned to do away with the horse-drawn apparatus as fast as possible.

Mrs. Emma S. Olds was being urged as a member of the school board by the women of Elyria.

The discharge of Deputy Auditor Coon Horn by County Auditor Haserodt caused considerable comment. Horn was a candidate for the office.
